5. Reserve Ordinances

Do not submit the following individuals unless you are related to them:

- Famous people.
- Those gathered from unapproved extraction projects.
- Jewish Holocaust victims. Members can do the ordinances for these people only under the following conditions:
 - They are an immediate family member of the deceased (defined as parents, spouse, children or siblings).
 - Or they have permission of all living immediate family members.
 - Or they have the permission of the closest living relative if no immediate family members are living.

Persons Born within the Last 110 Years

To do ordinances for a deceased person who was born in the last 110 years, the following requirements must be met.

- The person must have been deceased for at least one year.
- You must either be one of the closest living relatives, or you must obtain permission from one of the closest living relatives. If you are not a spouse, child, parent, or sibling of the deceased, please obtain permission from one of the closest living relatives before doing the ordinances. The closest living relatives are an undivorced spouse (the spouse to whom the individual was married when he or she died), an adult child, a parent, or a brother or sister.

Verbal approval is acceptable. Family members should work together to determine when the ordinances will be done and who will do them.

For more information, please read:

“You were born in a time of temples and technology. These are your days to more fully turn your hearts to your fathers and bring these saving ordinances to millions within our families. These are your days to prepare for the Second Coming of the Savior.”

Neil L. Andersen, "Find Our Cousins!" (address given at the RootsTech Family Discovery Day devotional, Feb. 8, 2014)
